PUBLIC FROWNS ON CRUSADE AGAINST THE RACETRACKS.

Sport Never So Popular and Brighton Is Enjoying Remarkable Patronage—Talk of a Meeting Between Waterboy and McChesney-This Week's Events.

The patronage of the Brighton races since the opening of the meeting at the Beach last, Wednesday has exceeded all previous records. ecretary John Boden, Jr., said yesterday that up to date more persons have passed through Brighton's gates than ever before in a similar length of time. There can be no doubt about the popularity of racing at President Engeman's track, where vast improvements have been made for the accomdation of the public. Even now men are busy erecting an addition to the field stand which will accommodate several thousand more patrons. While there are rich stakes cause of the stability of the sport and the richness of the stakes offered. With millions invested in the sport, with the new $3,000,000 Belmont Park in course of construction, with a great meeting at Saratoga about to begin, turfmen say that the efforts of several poolroom keepers and disgrunted gamblers to cause trouble cannot succeed.

The principal event to be decided at Brighton this week is the $5,000 Iroquois Stakes, for three-year-olds at a mile and a furlong, next Saturday. Africander and Golden Maxim are not on the eligible list, but is the post. August Belmont is sure to starle Keene stable Injunction and Cardini Wolsey may belooked for. J. B. Haggin will probably start Charles Elwood, why an second to Shorthose in the $70,000 Tidal bases. Green B. Morris will be represented by Rightful. P. J. Dwyer's Merry Acribed A. Featherstone's Mesmer, James Gold and Jobb, by either Slave of Arried by Rightful. P. J. Dwyer's Merry Acribed A. Featherstone's Mesmer, James Goldway's Brigand and perhaps Meltonian, together with W. C. Daly's Illyria, are also in line to go.

The Venus Stakes of $5,000, for two-year-old fillies, at five furlongs, also to be run on Saturday, will probably afford the public a chance to see Sydney Paget's undefeated Hamburg Belle sport silk. If the fleet daughter of Hamburg-Isiac goes to the post she is is likely to have a rather difficult task cut out for her if such good fillies start as August Belmont's Marjoram, R. W. Walden's Monsoon, Contentious and Petunia, the Keenes Dovecote, J. E. Madden's Hagian and others in their class. So far Hamburg Belle has earned the right to be called the best woyear-old filly of the year. She has won all ther races in spreadeagie fashion in lightning time. In the Venus she will have to give away lumps of weight to her company, which will put her to the real test.

The Distaff Stakes, for two-year-old fillies at five furlongs, will be run, Handicapper W. S. Vosburgh has assigned top weight to Golden Maxim, 122 pounds. The market of the Handicapper will be short and the should be a good field in the Test Handicap, for three-year-olds and upward at six furlongs, will be run on Wednesday, while there should be a good field in th the Advance Stakes.

Recalling Irish Lad's fine race in the Suburban Renewal, when he gave weight to Waterboy by the scale and was beaten a length, the argument is set forth that if Africander had been a starter in that affair he would have made it decidedly more interesting for the Haggin horse. Setting all these contentions aside, however, the fact must be conceded that nobody knows just how great a horse Waterboy is, as he has never yet been put to the limit of his speed and endurance and has won all of his races with something to spare. Trainer Jack Joyner does not believe in making predictions, but he is confident that Waterboy in his present form can beat anything in the East or West.

E. R. Thomas will ship all of his horses except the two-year-old filly Dimple to Saratoga this week. Trainer Karrick has been working Hermis along nicely and the $60,000 horse will try again in the Saratoga Handicap. According to Karrick, Hermis is simply late in coming to hand and will surprise people before the season is over. Mr. Thomas says that he sold his interest in the two-year-old Pulsus to J. E. Madden for the reason that the Top Gallant colt lacks profitable stake engagements both this year and next. There is still a rumor affoat that Madden will soon sell Pulsus to either E. E. Smathers or Whitney & Duryea. Mr. Thomas made an offer for Golden Maxim just before the Realization, which was refused. Advance Stakes. Scalling Irish Lad's fine race in the Subur-

English Brood Mares. At the Newmarket sales on Monday, June 29, five remarkable purchases were made by representatives of two of America's foremost racehorse owners. These were August Belmont and William C. Whitney. The sales recorded were from the Cheveley Stud, brood mares and foals, the property of the late Col. Harry McCalmont. Two were knocked down to Mr. Belmont. One was Fairy Gold, by Bend Or—Dame Masham, and covered by Isinglass and the price £3,600 This mare was foaled in 1896; the other one is Hauteese, foaled in 1896; the other one is Hauteese, foaled in 1891, by Archiduc—Hauteur, with a bay colt by Ladas and covered by Isinglass. The price was £4,600.

Three went to Mr. Whitney. The first one was Jeunesse Dorée, foaled in 1897, by Isinglass—La Croisere Dorée, with chestnut filly loal by Whittier and covered by Diamond Jubilee, price £3,560. The second was Snowy Corrie, foaled 1893, by Tristan—Corrie Roy, with bay colt by Whittier and covered by Orme, price £2,600; the third, Mistress Penn, foaled 1894, by Hampton—Lozenge, with filly foal by Isinglass, price £1,050. representatives of two of America's fore-

LEXINGTON. July 12.—The noted racehorse and sire Fonso has been dead two years, but the fact has been kept secret and there is no record of it in the "American Stud Book." Fonso died two years ago and but for the inquiry of a breeder who wished to make a mare to him the fact might never have become public. He was the winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1880 and as a two and three-year-old won a number of good races. Fonso was 24 years old and was owned by C. F. McMeckin, Oakwood Stud

TOO HOT FOR STEPPERS. Only a Few Out for Sunday Brushes on the Speedway.

Speedway Park is one of the coolest spots in Greater New York late in the afternoon, after the sun has settled behind the high cliffs. On the other hand it is one of the warmest spots to be found early in the day, when the morning sun beats down on the walks and stretches. This was true yesterday morning, and the crowd was the smallest of the year. Dr. Thomas Tuggles has been for several weeks quietly giving his brown trotter Ella easy preparation, and yesterday the daughter of Temple Bar, 2:17%, showed that she is close to her best form by defeating the brown trotter Freeland, 2:17%, in the best brush of the day. The gray trotter Gray Billy was was in good form, for he beat George Huber's trotter Red George, 2:27%, twice, although Red George had been a winner at a former meeting. Red George also had a brush with the chestnut pacer Lady Eugene, 2:141/4, driven by Mr. Cortier, but the two horses are hardly which will accommodate several thousand more patrons. While there are rich stakes to attract the millionaire turfmen, the Brighton meeting may be said to be a boon to poor owners. With the more powerful stables preparing for Saratoga, there is a royal chance for the smaller establishments to pull some of the purses out of the fire, and for that reason there is an abundance of entries which provide sport for everybody. So far, however, the horses have not run strictly to public form and the layers have had much the better of the argument. But there is always a turning in the Brighton tide, and when that period of good fortune arrives there will be renewed satisfaction all around.

With racing at the zenith of its popularity and prosperity, therefore, the crusade of the poolroom people to break up the game, if possible, is generally frowned upon by the public. The fight against the racetracks is pronounced a case of pure malice by almost every person identified with the turf. Racing was never conducted on more conservative lines. The public is protected from sharp practices and the Jockey Club stewards have succeeded in weeding out s

BIG OFFER FOR ARD PATRICK-John Gubbins Refuses $100,000 for Win ner of Last Year's Derby.

According to Dublin Sport of July 4 John Gubbins refused an offer of $100,000 for Ard Patrick, winner of the 1902 Derby and the Prince of Wales Stakes at Newmarket, recently. The prospective purchaser was Count Lehndorf, a Russian nobleman, who intended to take the horse on the continent if his bid was accepted. But Ard Patrick is fit just now, and Mr. Gubbins intends that he shall fill the remainder of his engagements he shall fill the remainder of his engagements this season.

Ard Patrick will appear in the Eclipse Stakes of 10,000 sovereigns at Sandown Park, and his weight will be 142 pounds. In this race Ard Patrick will meet Sceptre and Rock Sand, winner of this vear's Derby, and will give away weight to each. He is also billed for the Jockey Club Stakes, 10,000 sovereigns, at Newmarket, carrying 140 pounds, and the Champion Stakes at Newmarket, weight 126 pounds.

A number of fast brushes were witnessed on the Brooklyn Speedway yesterday after-noon. Platt Van Cott's bay trotting mare noon. Platt Van Cott's bay trotting mare Frances Jane, 2:19½, driven by P. McGowan, was queen of the road in the early hours, taking three brushes from Charles Moncrief's black pacer Isaac. Three horses in the fourth brush were beaten by Frances Jane, they being Isaac, W. H. Strang's Motion and Henry P. Little Patsy won a very cleverly driven brush from Griffin B. Conklin's Norval Red, George Avery handling Little Patsy. Joseph Carboy's Kittle Clay won two out of a trio of brushes, one from Norval Red, the second from Brandywine, losing to the last named later. Charles D. Strang's Chester won a brush from L. CINCINNATI. July 12 .- The New Yorks outplayed the locals at all points on a muddy field to-day and won after another hard finish by the Reds. The locals performed clumsily in the mud, and the visitors owe several of their hits to the inability of the infielders to cover their positions. The visitors, on the other hand, fielded brilliantly, especially Gilbert and Babb, the latter win ning applause on the first play of the game, he speared Donlin's line hit with his bare hand while lying flat in the mud. The fielding got Ewing into trouble and he was nable to pitch his way out. Van Haltren, Warner, Babb, Lauder and Gilbert made the hits that drove in the runs in this inning. In the fifth, Taylor, who had been pitching nicely, gave bases on balls to Peitz and Donlin Seymour brought both men in by a triple to right and scored, himself, on Browne's bad return.

When Taylor had given Dolan three balls, McGraw scented trouble and sent Cronin out to relieve Taylor. By solid hitting the New Yorks picked up runs in the sixth and the seventh innings. A brace of doubles gave the Reds one in the eighth. The Reds's finish was spectacular and for a while they seemed about to pull out. Bowerman's fine stop of Lauder's wild throw really saved the game, for two runs would have scored on the error. There were three on bases when Lauder finally ended the game by taking Daly's foul, almost under the grand stand.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Outside of one inning Schmidt was invincible to-day, but his one bad inning was enough to have shipwrecked any team. Slagle, the first Chicagoan to bat in the third inning, snapped a two-bagger just inside the right foul line. Casey beat out a bunt. Chance drew four balls, and Cook singled. Tinker and Evers in succession drew passes, and two men ran in on a wild pitch, after which Kilng wound up the scene with a two-bagger. Six runs were scored in the inning, and the Cubs made but two hits in all the rest of the game. Brooklyn's only run came in the third, when Schmidt singled, Strang sacrificed and Dobbs's short fly fell safe, Schmidt coming home.

Thomas H. Sterling, Covington, Va.—Your contention is correct. The point is covered by rule 48, section 8, its object being to prevent double plays by deliberately dropping the ball. Yes; the umpire's judgment decides whether it is an infield fly. The rule is explicit enough, as you will see. The case of a batter being out for hitting an infield fly applies only when there are runners on first and second bases, or first, second and third with none out or only one out.

NEW YORK'S GOOD SPURT. Americans' Record Since Elberfeld's

Coming-A Wave of Disorder. Since Elberfeld joined the New York Americans on June 13 and imparted speed, confidence and stability to the infield, the team has been going at a lively gait. In that period the New Yorks have played twenty-four games, of which seventeen have been victories, seven defeats and one an 10-inning These figures speak for themselves and tell more eloquently than a column puff could of the good uphill fight the team has made to get into the first division.

As has been said more than once, there are no snaps in the American League -no one, two or three teams that can be looked to as stepping-stones to advanceme Eternal vigilance and hustle is the price success in the American League, and the New Yorks have not only had to fight hard in general, but in each individual game to hold up their end in the fast company In the meantime those who have been attend ing American League games here have seen much high-class ball. The local public showed little inclination to warm up to the newcomers, but the latter have been winning favor slowly by sheer merit. Speaking of in the galaxy of luminaries that shine in the shortfield position.

The New York National League club is playing just as good ball without Davis as it played with him. There are some who think Babb the more valuable man. The Davis and Elberfeld cases bring up this question: Why cannot the leagues have a board of arbitration to settle their disputes without going to law?—an independent board, that is, composed of men of standing and sound judgment who are not allied with either league, or of one man from each league and a third member independent of either, a man like E. B. Talcott or Pat Powers, for instance. Such a board would dispense justice and keep relations pleasant, and its existence and authority would preclude the grabbing by one side of the other's players for a real or imaginary wrong.

The outbreak of rowdy kicking in Cincinnati a week ago yesterday; the fight between an umpire and a player at American League Park here last week; the McGraw-Williams fuss at St. Louis, the rough and tumble fight between two players at the Polo Grounds recently; the O'Neill-Babb fight in St Louis; the indefinite suspension of Lajoie, the second one this season; the Burkett-Loftus fight in St. Louis, all show that the present season will not go down into history as a red letter one for clean sportsmanship in baseball. On the subject of offenders the club owners and managers who do not give the presidents full support in squelching the umpire bulliers and baiters are offenders just as great morally as any of their players. The protection which presidents promise to umpires should protect them from vile abuse from players, and the suspension of a month or two for such language as Green is said to have used to Umpire Sheridan would have a wholesome effect.

The wave of disorder which has swept over baseball of late is a subject calling for more serious attention than the matter which has strained the thin peace existing between the two big leagues, and the latter affair is not one to be treated lightly by any means. Kicking is not only offensive to the class of patro

Handball on Local Courts. Local courts were well patronized yester day, and the heat which made healthy persons gasp even where cool breezes blew seemed only to invigorate devotees of the ancient pastime. Members of the Brookyn Handball Club gathered in force at the yn Handball Club gathered in force at the Degraw street alley and several smashing rubbers were played. Members of this club were much pleased over the report that the veteran player. Phil Casey, was fast regaining his health in the Adirondacks. He had been ordered there for recuperation purposes a short time ago and is doing so well that he hopes to be able to chase the elusive sphere around the alley in the fail. Following are the scores of the Brooklyn Handball Club at Degraw street.

Vanderblit Horses for Atlantic City Horse Show.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 12.-Five ribbon winners from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's stable arrived to-day for the open-air horse stable arrived to-day for the open-air horse show, which begins next Tuesday. Mr. Vanderbilt will arrive to-morrow, and will witness the daily judging. Reginald Vander-bilt, who also has a field of horses nominated for competition, is abroad and cabled his regrets at his inability to attend. WESTERN OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP best score ever made over a championship course in this country, and Bernard Nicholls left last night for Milwaukee to play in the open championship of the Western Golf Association on Thursday and Friday. Stewart Gardner and George Low are also expected to go on, while there will be probably some other entries from the East, with David Brown a certainty. Anderson, besides being open champion, is the holder of the open championship of the West and he will do his best to defend the title. The distances of the Milwaukee Country Club's links are, in order: 165, 295, 295, 410, 450, 400, 405, 400 and 185 yards, a total of 3,005. It is said to be an open and fairly well arranged course, with few diffiflag. The club's bogey is 40, but par golf many hanging lies for the second shots, the amateurs have complained that it is a hard course to score on, but their record is 79. Last year, over the 6,021-yard course of the Euclid Country Club, Anderson made the seventy-two holes in 299, but according to the Milwaukee players 315 should be good enough this week. The prediction seems far too high, for, as the scores showed when the open championship abroad included Musselburgh, the golfers of the first class score better on a nine-hole than on an eighteenhole course, all things being equal, the repetition of the same holes coming so quickly juggling tricks with club and ball. This was demonstrated at the recent Brooklawn tournament the 2 828-vard course having a for seventy-two holes was 285, while Stewart Gardner, approximating the three holes not played in his match with Aleck Smith, made 291. It is more reasonable that the 307 at Baltusrol should be beaten than that 315 will be the winning score.

The Vermont State championship is to be played this week at the Waubanokee Golf Club, which, by the way, is not a member of the U. S. G. A. The event is open to nonresidents, the present champion being Paul Waterman of Englewood. Unless Shinnecock Hills falls in line with its invitation tournament for the third week in July, there will be no events of that sort in the M. G. A. district until July 30, 31 and Aug. 1, at the Apawamis Club.

The North Shore Jersey League has been revived, the members being the Deal, Seabright, Spring Lake and Hollywood clubs. bright, Spring Lake and Hollywood clubs. The Flushing Country Club may join, as it would have been elected last spring had it been possible to form a six-club circuit. The three in membership are the Midland, Highlands and Bayswater clubs. The Flushing Country Club would be able to bring out a strong team. Its club championship was played on Saturday and won by W. S. Brown, who beat Craig Colgate, by 2 up and 1 to play, while C. A. Mesmith won the consolation cup from H. L. Bogert, by 3 up and 2 to play.

Shiels, professional at the New Maven Country Club, will be at the Eastern Point Golf Club, near New London, for the summer. Aleck Patrick has laid out a nine-hole course for the new Sayville Golf Club. There is a good deal of play this season at the Bellport Golf Club.

MAY STOP FIGHTS AT FORT ERIE. Canadian Authorities Swear Out a Warrant for the Matchmaker.

There is trouble ahead for Jack Herman and his club, the International A. C. of Fort Erie. According to word from Niagara Falls, agitation which bagan some time ago against the club holding fistic bouts has borne fruit, and a decision, which will settle the future of the club, is set for to-day Herman, who is at Chicago, has been notified to appear before Magistrate Cruikshank of Niagara Falls, Ont., to-day. He will be arrested immediately upon setting foot on Canadian soil on a warrant sworn out charging him with violating the criminal code of Canada.

There is a definite plan to prevent any more fights at Fort Erie. The Canadian newspapers are with the authorities, and in newspapers are with the authorities, and in the last week have been denouncing the condition of affairs there generally.

The International A. C. is one of the best-known boxing clubs in the East. A number of important battles have been decided there. Herman has had experience with the police of Canada, and a year ago was charged with violating the law. He brought the matter to the courts and won. Herman may have had some inkling of interference, for he cancelled a match between Martin Duffy of Chicago and Rube Ferns of Buffalo who were to have had it out to-morrow night.

League club had contracts with Leach and Smith of Pittsburg, signed prior to the peace agreement, which, if necessary, could be produced and these players compelled to come here, if the trouble between the two leagues goes far enough.

"The American League has not been guilty of a single breach of faith with the National League," said Johnson, "and I think when the National League holds its meeting on July 20 and learns all the facts in the case it will agree that we were right in both the Elberfeld and Davis matter."

She will compete for the Lipton cup, the races to be sailed in Lake Michigan, off Chicago, late this sailed in Lake Michigan, off Chicago, late this summer. The boat was built from designs by Small Bros., Boston, and an exact duplicate has been constructed in Chicago. The boats will be raced together with crews as evenly matched in seamanship as possible, with the idea of comparing Eastern and Western building. The yacht is owned by the Columbia Yacht Club of Chicago. On his last trip to this country Sir Thomas Lipton presented a cup to the club to be raced for by small yachts, and the Little Shamrock will compete. The boat is 36 feet over all, with a waterline of 21 feet and a beam of 11 feet. She carries a ton of lead in her keel. The boat has a cabin and will afford accommodations for a crew of six. Jake Schaefer on Billiards.

CHICAGO, July 12 .- Jake Schaefer, the billiard champion, was asked to-day for an expression of his opinion regarding the billiard situation, and said: "George Wheelock of New York is willing to bet any sum from $1,000 to $10,000 that I can defeat any man living at any sort of a game on a billiard table, and I am ready to follow his wishes. I am the champion. Maybe the billiard manufacturers do not care to tell about me much, for I have had some trouble with them, but that emblem that they are exhibiting in their windows belongs to me, for I have won it time and again. I am an American, and if any Frenchman or any one else wants to win the title I will have something to say about the battleground. They have challenged me for the emblem, but I have always named New York as the place. That is neutral ground, and I feel satisfied it is the right place to play." billiard champion, was asked to-day for an

MR. PLANT'S GROWING FLEET. Four Boats Now in Commission and Two

BRISTOL, July 12.- Morton T. Plant of New London promises to have a fleet of yachts as numerous as that of Sir Thomas Lipton. There are four craft of the Plant fleet now in commission, consisting of the new steam yacht Parthenia, two good-sized launches, and a 34-foot cruising sloop. Two more are to be added to the fleet before the yachting season is over. The next one to be placed in commission will be the new steel schooner yacht Ingomar, which the riggers and fitters have been fitting up night and day for a week past at the Herreshoft wharf, to have her ready to participate in the annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club, beginning on July 16.

The Ingomar was finished and ready for her trials the latter part of the week. The craft is an able looking boat and shows a degree of power, and, though built and designed as a cruising centreboard craft, her lofty rig in some respects marks the boat as one that will show fine speed when pitted against some of the other schooners that are to take part in the club runs. Mr. Plant will sail on the Ingomar, it is understood, during the cruise, and the schooner will be handled by Capt. Hoimes of the steam yacht Parthenia, an old racing skipper, though yet a young man. Ingomar will sail against Latonia and Grayling.

The sixth craft shat Mr. Plant will have in commission this season will be a new steam tender, which is to have a speed of twenty-two miles an hour and is to be completed and ready to be delivered on Aug. I. The order for this craft, which is to be of a type the same as the Scout, owned by August Belmont, was placed with the Herrshoff's the first of the menth. She is to be Si feet in length. A new 50-foot sloop of the centreboard type, built for a Mr. Clark of Philadelphia and launched several days ago, has just been rigged at the Herreshoff shops and will participate in the annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club. She looks speedy and has a lofty rig. launches, and a 34-foot cruising sloop. Two more are to be added to the fleet before the

COMPARING RIVAL YACHTS. Reliance Goes Into Dock With the Shamrock III. Close at Hand.

Yachtsmen had an excellent chance to compare the points of the defender, Reliance, and the challenger, Shamrock III., yesterday, when the former went into the smaller grave dock at Erie Basin, just west of the large dock where Shamrock has been having her bottom polished, and they took advantage of the opportunity. All day long, persons of every age, size and description walked around the docks and commented gritically upon what they considered the merits and demerits of the challenger and the defender.

The work on Shamrock was completed on Saturday, when the last cont of enamel was put on her bottom, and she will go outside Sandy Hook to-day to again try conclusions with the old challenger.

The bottom of the Reliance did not appear to be in any pressing need of a scraping, but Mr. Iselin was unwilling to let her enter the squadron run of the New York Yacht Club unless she was fit in every particular; hence the docking. It was 8 o'clock yesterday morning when the Reliance went into the dock, and Capt. Barr hopes to have her out, in the best of racing trim, early to-morrow morning. the opportunity. First Contest of Bar Harbor Raceabouts. BAR HARBOR, July 12.- The first race of the season for the new class of Bar Harber raceabouts was held in the outer bay yesterday afternoon. The new yachts are 35-footers built especially for the Bar Harbor races by the Herreshoffs. They are beauties, and their performance showed them to be as speedy as they are beautiful. The race speedy as they are beautiful. The race was twice around a course of six miles, and the winner covered the distance in about 1 hour and 47 minutes. Edgar Scott of Philadelphia and Herbert Sears of Boston again proved themselves to be the better sailors, and the former won by over three minutes.

Mr. Sears met with an accident on the second round which put him down to fourth place. There was a strong steady wind until the last five minutes of the race. It was not until the home stake was turned on the second round that Mr. Scott got the lead which won the race. The race began at 2:35 and the boats finished as follows:

Edgar Scott's Bat, 4:22; H. L. Enos's Astrict.
